From the Desk of the President

Say, "THANK YOU"

The month of November is once again upon us with its dreary and shorter days. During this month, however, there is one outstanding day we all celebrate with food and festivity. This is the day when we will give thanks for all that we have, whether this be health, wealth, or happiness, or all three.

This tradition was started by thirty-nine English settlers who arrived at the Berkeley Plantation on the James river on December 4, 1619. These settlers, of course, did not realize at the time that a tradition was being instituted which would be repeated annually in cities, communities, and even small villages in our great country.

The year 1981, which is about to end shortly, has also given us many opportunities for which we should be thankful. It is also a time that we should give thanks to our colleagues who departed during this past year. These men and women made an impact in the manner in which medicine is practiced today as compared to the past. For this reason I would like all of you to join me as we say "Thank you" to our departed healers who died in 1981 —

THE BAR IS NOT ENOUGH

A diploma from medical school is only the first step in the medical staircase to reach private practice. Many years of post-graduate education are needed before one is eligible for Board examination. Of course, the quality of care delivered depends on the dedication of the individual, but specialty examinations are an attempt to screen the qualified from the non-qualified. The public can look to specialty societies to assure well-trained people are managing complicated illnesses. For example, this approach prevents a rheumatologist from doing a delicate brain surgery. Instead, only a qualified neurosurgeon can perform such demanding procedures.

Other professions also realize the benefits of specialty standardization and certification. It seems unfortunate that the legal profession has not followed suit. It is true that many bar members are specialty-trained and limit their practices, but there are no barriers to prevent drifting into other areas. Theoretically, a lawyer could be managing complicated medical, criminal and civil cases all at the same time, even though he may not be thoroughly familiar with technical aspects of each area. Legal knowledge without technical knowledge of a field is an inadequate data base in the search for truth.

The risk of non-specialization is accentuated by the infusion of a high volume of law graduates who are in competition for clients. For example, a recent television advertisement in Cleveland entices other lawyers' clients into questioning the adequacy of previous settlements. It seems like a clamoring for business rather than a pursuit of justice. In the quest for fairness it is unlikely that every lawyer has the potential to be involved in every area and do it well.

The time has come to call for the specialization by certification of lawyers. The change must come from the Bar Association itself. They must realize that a law degree and bar certification should only be stepping stones to specialty certification. Our society, with its rapid changes, requires lawyers knowledgeable not only in the legal aspects of a field, but its technical aspects as well. Specialty board examinations would give the legal profession an area of organization it desperately needs. Perhaps some day plaintiffs and defendants will not feel like they live in the web of a crazed spider designing ad-lib patterns.

ASSOCIATE

Chester Amedia, M.D.
Aron Blecher, M.D.

ACTIVE:

The applications were approved. The applicants become members of the Mahoning County Medical Society in the voted category 15 days after publication in the Bulletin, unless objection is filed in writing with the executive director before that time.

In response to a request from Dr. Finley that the Council consider the formation of a multi-structured committee to study the problem of pre-hospital medical system, develop a plan for county-wide emergency medical system, consider a tax levy from Mahoning County to support the implementation of such a plan in part or totally, study how present suppliers fit in and what role the fire departments will play, the Council agreed that the executive director should canvass the membership to obtain volunteers from the Society membership to serve on the proposed committee.

A notice was read concerning the Nov. 11 Fall District Meeting for all delegates, alternate delegates, officers and executives being held in Medina.

A communication concerning an opening for a physician in Maine was read. It was suggested that such communications in the future be presented to the Medical Directors of the hospitals.

A letter from OSMA gave notice concerning the Ohio Attorney General's belief that names of physicians receiving Medicaid payments can be published in newspapers.

A letter was read from Y.H.A. expressing gratitude to the Society for helping launch YHA's 100th Anniversary celebration.

Other communications included a request for approval of a Disability Symbol, which Council did not give official approval but noted seemed like a good idea.

Repayment of a scholarship grant of $500 plus a $50 contribution to the Foundation by Dr. John H. Surry.

A letter from the MCMS executive director to Congressman Lyle Williams asking his support of legislation concerning the FTC.

A request for support of the library levy.

A request for appointment of a member of the Society to the HSAEO committee that will recommend what the future functions and structure of the health planning will be in this area. A motion was made and passed that the executive director inform HSA that the Society will be happy to reactivate its liaison committee to offer consultation from the Society as a whole when HSA wishes to have medical input to meet on a one-on-one basis with its counterparts and consisting of the Society's president, vice-president and immediate past president.

An offer of a tax seminar from a CPA firm and a letter of thanks from the widow of Dr. Fred Schlecht were noted by the Council.

Dr. Anderson reported there was little change in the status of the lawsuit and Dr. Wilsie reported there is an indication that the hospitals are about to settle the case.

The Rehabilitation Committee reported a meeting was held Sept. 17 but no action was recommended.

Canfield Fair Committee reported 35 exhibitors in the Medical Health Building during this year's fair.

The Budget Committee presented a proposed budget for 1982 and the Council approved it unanimously by voice vote, following a motion and second to accept it.

The Medical Assistants Dinner, held October 1 was reported as a huge success and a recommendation was made from the floor of council that those responsible be given a letter of thanks.

It was noted that Dr. Abdu was substituted as a member of the Nominating Committee to replace Dr. Kohli, who couldn't serve.

An attorney's opinion regarding the Rehabilitation Committee recommendations presented at the March meeting of the Society was read.

Dr. Lakhani made known his concern about pharmacies filling prescriptions for longer periods of time than originally specified by the doctor. It was suggested that the executive director contact the Pharmacy Association to express this concern. Dr. Baumblatt requested concern be expressed about pharmacists substituting generic drugs when not called for.

The executive director was instructed to compile guidelines for selection of a Doctor of the Year in the future and present them to the next Council meeting.

Dr. Shorr called attention to the Youngstown University commercial message presented during the football game that declared that the YSU medical program for athletic injuries is the best in the area and has the top people and equipment for taking care of any sports-related injuries. Council instructed the executive director to investigate the source of the commercial and its content and then report to the Council in November.

It was announced that the next council meeting is Nov. 10 and the next meeting of the Society is Nov. 17 with a program on "Mal-practice" and nomination of officers scheduled.

A request was made to have a member of the Vindicator staff appear at the next Council session to explain the method of determining story structure in the paper.

The meeting adjourned at 9:41 p.m.

HONOR THE MEMORY

You may honor the memory of a deceased colleague or friend by contributing as little as $15 to the Mahoning County Medical Society Foundation. An appropriate letter will be sent the next of kin, noting the contribution and the purpose to which it is being put. The address of the next of kin should accompany the contribution.

Send your contribution to Mahoning County Medical Society Foundation with the name of the deceased and the next of kin. Your contribution will be acknowledged and a letter sent to the next of kin.

YOU HAVE A COMMITMENT TO CONTAIN COSTS.

SO DO WE.

As a physician, you have first-hand knowledge of cost containment. You live with it every day. So do we.

And we share a concern that the high quality of care available to the public not be jeopardized by rising costs. It will take a concerted effort on the part of insurers, physicians and the public to maintain high quality care at a reasonable cost.

At OMIM, cost containment is a commitment to action. To do more than pay claims efficiently. To be concerned that the services we pay for are appropriate, necessary and economical.

These are the goals of the OMIM Medical Necessity Program. Through this Ohio State Medical Association-supported program, certain diagnostic and surgical procedures, identified as outmoded or ineffective by medical specialty societies, are no longer paid routinely.

Claims for these services are paid only when accompanied by documented evidence that they were appropriate and medically necessary under the circumstances.

If there are questions about a decision, the claim will be referred to the relevant specialty society for review.

For more information about the Medical Necessity Program, contact your area Professional Relations office or contact OMIM Provider Affairs, P.O. Box 425, Worthington, OH 43085.

Cost Containment. It's a commitment we share.

REASONABLE COST...

From the Bulletin

FIFTY YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1931

About this time, the Recession hit the Depression; it was a bad time. The great Chevalier Jackson, the man who invented bronchoscopy and designed the instruments, was scheduled to come here from Philadelphia for a big meeting at Stambaugh Auditorium, with the public invited as guests of the Medical Society.

But there was no money to hire the hall. Our bank account was frozen. Treasurer W. X. Taylor said, "We are flat broke" and that was a voluminous report from him. He usually gave no information to anyone about the Society's finances, not even to the President.

So Jack Lewis and Ed Goldcamp and some others advanced the money out of their own pockets to keep things going.

S. Q. Laypius observed that the smoke abatement campaign had been very successful. The mills were all down and not one stack was pouring out smoke.

FORTY YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1941

The speaker that month was Dr. Claude Beck of Western Reserve University who lectured on "Heart Diseases Treated by Operation."

A great deal of space was devoted to the topic of medical preparedness. The military draft had been in operation for some time and the selective service had released figures showing that nearly 50% of the draftees were rejected for physical or mental defects. This caused a furor in the public press and was being used by the proponents of socialized medicine as evidence of inadequate medical care. Most medical publications, including the Bulletin, were debunking the figures.

The Atlantic Charter had been drawn up. American warships were conveying supplies to Britain, the German army was pressing on toward Moscow, Japanese "peace" envoys were negotiating in Washington but their fleet was steaming toward Pearl Harbor. The American people were still hoping to avoid war.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1951

New members were M. D. Evans, E. E. Brant, K. C. Kunin, J. N. Gordon, J. L. Calvin, Harry A. Smith and J. J. Campolito.

The Alcoholic Clinic was on Lincoln Avenue. Lyons was at 32 Fifth Avenue. Blair's Dry Cleaning was on Glenwood Ave. Truedly's was on Commerce Street. White's had five stores. Scott's store was on Phelps St. and O'Linns in the Bus Arcade. Stambaugh-Thompson's big hardware store was on W. Federal St. The Paramount and State Theatres were open and the beautiful Warner Theater was always filled, with lines waiting to get in.

Office visits were 5.00. Home calls were $7.00 daytime and $10.00 at night. There was no Medicare and no Social Security for doctors, no mention of doctor shortage.

How things have changed.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1961

The Society did two great services to the people of Mahoning County that month: Kurt Wegner and his Polio Immunization Committee put on a mass immunization program with the new Sabin oral vaccine. J. D. Miller and his committee conducted the Diabetes Detection Program. Both were successful. Both the young and the elderly were benefited.

J. Allan Aldoerffer and the late Nick Narducci were elected to the Curbstone Coaches Hall of Fame for their achievements in track and football.

New members were Armin V. Banez, Maria M. L. Liang Fok, and Raul Albert Hernandez.

THE OXYGEN CONCENTRATOR

Continuous source of O₂ and peace of mind for you and your patients

No more ongoing parade of bulky tanks in and out of the home. No more hassle with gauges, valves and potential hazards. No more fear of "running out" before a refill can be delivered. The oxygen concentrator brings continuous or PRN medical grade oxygen to your patient at the touch of a switch as it "manufactures" oxygen from room air, anytime, any place. And it never needs refilling. Prescribed flows and concentrations are dialed in at the control panel. The oxygen concentrator is mobile and can be moved easily from room to room.

TEN YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1971

Editor Felix Pcsa examined the Medical Society by Editorial and pronounced the diagnosis as "Akinetic Mutism". He said the Society was suffering from apathy, complacency and disinterest. He hoped the disease was self-limiting. It wasn't.

President John Stotler warned the members about the establishment of a new state organization called the "Medical Advances Institute", which was formed to create peer review organizations at the local level. Dr. Stotler described the members of the Medical Advances Institute as "foxes in the henhouse", and he warned the members to beware of their activities.

It was indeed a month of apathy. Because of the poor attendance at the Medical-Dental Picnic, it was decided that the annual outing in September be discontinued. The Womens Auxiliary reported that it no longer wished to sponsor the annual Dinner-Dance, and it was suggested that the Medical Society undertake to continue it.

Diabetes week was in full swing under the guidance of Mrs. Joan Gonzales, from the Auxiliary, and Dr. S. F. Gaylord from the Medical Society. Mrs. Ella Tidd retired as Secretary of the Medical Society Office after ten years of loyal service. Mrs. Nancy Thornton was hired as the new office secretary.

PNEUMOCOCCAL VACCINE BOOSTERS

Pneumococcal vaccine was licensed in the U.S. in 1977. At that time, a three year booster interval was suggested. This interval was later raised to no more often than every five years. On August 18, 1981, the U.S. Public Health Service Immunization Practices Advisory Committee issued new recommendations. The ACIP now states the booster doses should NOT be given, at least at this time.

Severe local and systematic reactions have been common among adults given second doses. They are thought to result from localized antigen-antibody reactions involving antibody induced by previous vaccinations. Whether prior infection with the S. pneumoniae types represented in the vaccine will result in comparable local reactions after vaccination is unknown.

Good record-keeping practices will definitely reduce the number of repeat doses administered. It is suggested the date of vaccination, manufacturer (there are two), and vaccine lot number be posted in a prominent place in each vaccinees medical record. This should be a standardized procedure in that the entry should appear in the same place in each record. When a vaccinated patient transfers to another institution, the fact that pneumococcal vaccine has already been administered should be made clear.

The Ohio State Department of Health continues to be in favor of pneumococcal immunization of high-risk patients, especially those in closed populations where acute outbreaks can occur, or a high rate of endemic disease can exist. There is an ample supply of pneumococcal vaccine on hand for unvaccinated patients and it can be obtained by contacting the local health department. There is no charge for the vaccine and no charge for the vaccine is permitted to be passed on to the patient, Medicare or Medicaid. A charge for administration is permitted.

100-YEAR LIFE SPAN

As more and more people reach ages far in excess of today's expectancy average, enforced retirement at age 65 and 70 will probably give way to offers of extended periods of work opportunity.

Life expectancy in 1935, when Social Security started was 61 years, and the average person was not expected to live long enough to collect benefits. In the intervening 45 years, life expectancy has climbed 13 years to age 74. It will likely climb even higher, and the fifth grader of today will be part of a society facing the choice of supporting an increasing number of unproductive older people or of including them in the work force.

In fact, if the birth rate continues to drop concurrent with an increasing life expectancy, the available work force between the ages of 18 and 65 may be so reduced as to require recruitment of older workers as a means to meet their own demands for goods and services.
